PRELUDE

Now Thank, My Soul, Thy Master

BUXTEHUDE

CALL TO WORSHIP

Psalm 149:1-5

Praise the LORD! Sing to the LORD a new song, his praise in the assembly of the godly!

Let Israel be glad in his Maker; let the children of Zion rejoice in their King!

Let them praise his name with dancing, making melody to him with tambourine and lyre!

For the LORD takes pleasure in his people; he adorns the humble with salvation.

Let the godly exult in glory; let them sing for joy on their beds.

MORNING WORSHIP, LORD'S DAY, APRIL 24, 2016

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

Your steadfast love is better than life, O Lord, but we have often loved sin more. You are a sanctuary strong and secure, mighty to save and keep the hearts of all who seek You, yet we dwell in a wilderness of temptation and despair. In the night watches our hearts are restless, our consciences burdened, our fears magnified. Greater than all our enemies without is the one within. We cannot escape our rebellious natures. But Your gracious Spirit has applied the blood of Jesus to our souls, delivered us from bondage to sin, and given us the grace of repentance. By that grace we cry for pardon. May we enter the sanctuary to behold Your glory and power. May we see the King and hear His word of forgiveness. Amen.

Q.189: What does the preface of the Lord's Prayer teach us?

A. The preface of the Lord's Prayer (contained in these words, Our Father which art in heaven,) teaches us, when we pray, to draw near to God with confidence of his fatherly goodness, and our interest therein; with reverence, and all other childlike dispositions, heavenly affections, and due apprehensions of his sovereign power, majesty, and gracious condescension:

as also, to pray with and for others.
